Why is there a need to prove prejudice in annulment proceedings?

Intellioffices, Level 3, 146 Robinson Road, Singapore 068909
Thursday, 21 July 2016, 5pm – 7.15pm

About this Seminar:

At least in Singapore, it is orthodox that in setting-aside challenges, even if a court were to find that a breach of natural justice had been committed in the course of arbitral proceedings, it would need to be satisfied that prejudice had been occasioned by the breach. In other words, the challenger has to prove that if the breach had not occurred, the tribunal could have arrived at a different conclusion. This talk by one of the Singapore legal community's foremost up-and-coming young arbitration intellects examines and critiques the rationale behind the requirement to prove prejudice, and whether the mechanism of proving prejudice is necessary, appropriate and useful in setting-aside challenges.

Seminar Programme:

5.00 – 5.30pm	Registrations and Standing Buffet Reception
5.30 – 5.45pm	Opening Remarks by Chairman Mr. Tay Yu-Jin – Partner &amp; Global Co-Chair (International Arbitration), DLA Piper
5.45 – 7.00pm	Why is there a need to prove prejudice in annulment proceedings? Mr. Paul Tan – Partner, Rajah &amp; Tann Singapore LLP
7.00 – 7.15pm	Moderated Q&A Session

About the Speaker:

Paul Tan is called to the Singapore and English bars and enjoys a broad-based international arbitration (Commercial and Investor-State) and litigation practice. He is regularly instructed as lead counsel before international tribunals, the Singapore International Commercial Court and at the highest levels of the Supreme Court of Singapore.

He commands praise for his “wide knowledge”, “powerful intellect” and “extraordinary analytical discipline” in some of the most novel and demanding cases. He is consistently ranked in Best Lawyers International for international arbitration and litigation, described as “exceptionally bright” in Legal 500, and hailed in Chambers & Partners (Asia-Pacific and Global) as “a rising star”, “really excellent”, “highly intelligent”, “very capable” and “as good as anybody I’d worked with in Singapore.” He is also co-author of the forthcoming edition of the world-renowned Mustill & Boyd’s treatise on commercial and investment arbitration.

About the Chairman:

Yu-Jin Tay is a partner and global co-chair of DLA Piper's international arbitration practice in Asia. Presently based in Singapore, he has practised international arbitration in Paris, London and Washington DC. He specialises in international arbitrations arising from M&A, joint venture, energy, infrastructure and general commercial disputes, and has experience of over 60 arbitrations under the rules of most leading arbitral institutions including the ICC, SIAC, HKIAC, LCIA, AAA-ICDR, CIETAC, DIAC, KLRCA and BANI. In addition to acting as counsel, Yu-Jin sits regularly as an arbitrator and has received appointments in ICC, SIAC, LCIA, HKIAC and ad hoc arbitrations. He is a Fellow and elected Council member of the Singapore Institute of Arbitrators and a member of various arbitrator panels including the SIAC, KLRCA, KCAB and VIAC. Since 2001, he has had experience advising and representing investors and governments in investment treaty arbitrations. Since 2013, he has been designated by the Government of Timor-Leste to ICSID's Panels of Arbitrators and Conciliators. In 2011, Yu-Jin was featured in the 2011 edition of Global Arbitration Review's

45 under 45, a global survey of arbitration lawyers under 45 and he has been listed annually as a leading individual in global legal directories including GAR's International Who's Who of Commercial Arbitration (since 2010), Chambers Asia-Pacific and Asia-Pacific Legal 500 (since 2008) and the Euromoney Guide to the World's Leading Experts in Commercial Arbitration (since 2006).
